CITY COUNCIL WISELY REJECTS OPEN SPACE PROPOSAL

Ritual Chicken Sacrifice Held After 14 January Meeting

On Thursday evening, 14 January, The La Habra Heights City Council decided by a vote of 3 - 2 to postpone establishment of 25 acres of open space with amenities for the citizens as offered at no cost by the Puente Hills Wildlife Corridor.

Thrilled residents attending the meeting wretched their approval. Mayor John Daniel proudly pronounced "I am the Mayor of La Habra Heights" and the thronging crowd went wild. Citizens massed at the microphone to praise Mayor John "I am the Mayor" Daniel and support his decision with CP's Spothelfer and Powers to shove it up the people's noses. Tim Bradley, candidate for City Council, rose to speak and quickly floated to the ceiling.

The buyer and the sellers of the property, who had concluded their agreement earlier in the week in cooperation with Mayor John "I am the Mayor" Daniel and CP Powers, met outside after the Council majority had refused the necessary blessing for the transaction. An emotional scene ensued as the parties tearfully expressed their thankfulness to the Council for thwarting the transaction and giving the City Attorney continued opportunity to provide timely and competitively priced advice on what to do next. In the background, Mayor John "I am the Mayor"

Daniel could be heard over the microphone chanting "I am the Mayor".

Following the meeting, the troika of Mayor John "I am the Mayor" Daniel and CP's Spothelfer and Powers were rumored to have removed to the rear of the building to slaughter a chicken, with the entrails scheduled for preservation and plastering on the residents at a later date.

Proposal to Merge Improvement Association and City Council

Discussions to merge the La Habra Heights City Council and The La Habra Heights Improvement Association were discussed over roast duck of the Heights at the recent Improvement Association meeting.

The meeting was open to the public but held unannounced in an undisclosed location behind security gates. The lack of public participation was deplored.

Key players Mayor John "I am the Mayor" Daniel and CP Spothelfer and their spouses waxed long and eloquent about the advantages of the merger and the fine parties to be had.

Candidate for City Council Tim Bradley, whose spouse is President of the Improvement Association, agreed in advance with all parties.

Park Building Improvement to Include New Sewer

Flush With Money

A design review was recently held by the Parks and Recreation Commission to set strategy for Park Building improvement. Parks and Rec Commission Chairman and Candidate for City Council Tim Bradley proudly announced that expenditures were ahead of schedule with $180,000 committed or paid out to various parties while work was yet to begin. He went on to say that, with so much money going down the drain, we should install a sewer to capture it. This elicited a proposal to install sewers throughout the building and across the property in a circuit to begin on the west side of the building and end on the east side of the building. The audience (of 1) clucked its approval.

Improvement Association to Sponsor Candidates Pie Throwing Contest

Trying to Make Elections Fun: 'Just like the Three Stooges' CP Spothelper Warbles

The La Habra Heights Improvement Association will be holding a pie throwing contest for candidates in the upcoming city council election. In a novel approach, the LHHIA has divided the candidates into two teams, with each 'tossler' on each team allocated 10 pies for throwing.

The two teams are The Friends of the Puente Hills Dump with candidates Carol Engelhardt and Fred Klein, and The Friends of the La Habra Heights Sewer with Candidates George Cooke and Tim Bradley, and CPs Powers, Spothelper, and Mayor John "I am the Mayor" Daniel.

The Friends of the Dump will be in the green jerseys and the Friends of the Sewer will be in brown. Friends of the Sewer won a toss held during a closed door strategy session with the Improvement Association which entitled them to select the flavor of the pies. During an alert moment, Mr. Cooke, speaking for the Sewers, specified mud pies as the weapon of the day.

A word from the Editors: 'Hey, just kidding folks'.
